

Once upon a time.....

Dolls and Fairy Tales are still around, but have you noticed they have become too childish for many children? Why is that?

Clothes are different. TV shows are more mature (even on children's programming).

There's even a line of hair care products that boasts of the ability to help into sensuality by using their product. There's a new normal that's anything but.

The message that is now starting younger and younger is "you're not quite good enough."

This often translates into girls trying to become who and what they've seen on TV, or see accepted and embraced by their peers. Possibly worst of all is the girl willing to do anything simply as a means to be loved. Whatever the reason, the outcome is almost always damaging to who they believe they are. The result is anything from a girl struggling with self esteem to a girl trying to be grown at an age when she is not.

tap

Unbound Ministry would like to formally invite You and your Princess to PB&J 2011

When: Friday 7pm-Saturday 12pm (February 25th-26th)

Where: Hampton Inn, Gastonia, NC

What: A weekend of ROYAL fun!

Price: $40 per person (1 adult + 1 child = $80)

*$50 per person will include a Freedom backpack, bracelet & two stickers.

ALL STAYS Include: dinner, snacks and breakfast, all activities and hotel room

For more information or registration contact:

Gina Pasour 704-860-6123

Robyn McDaniel 704-215-6334

Or visit www.unboundministry.com

*Registration Deadline: February 13th

*PB&J is for elementary aged princesses

